Are multiple choice exams preparing you for your future career?

Employers want graduates who think critically and creatively.

Expect more from economics
Is the representative agent a man or a woman?

Questions of gender don’t feature in our curriculum.

Expect more from economics
Is your curriculum taking climate change seriously?

Indefinite growth on a finite planet?

Expect more from economics
Why aren’t we studying Smith, Keynes or Marx?

Different perspectives shouldn’t be relegated to history.

Expect more from economics
What do you say when friends ask about the 2008 financial crash?

Struggling for an answer?

Expect more from economics
When do we include other social sciences in our economic models?

Economists require a broader picture of society.

Expect more from economics